

The following are instructions on how to log on to the NY Times. If you need further help, please see the front desk of your local library branch/station. Below each set of instructions will be an image of the step you are on.

1. Go to an internet browser and type into the url: www.plumaslibrary.org. Then hit enter. (Depending on your internet browser – which includes Google Chrome, Firefox, Internet Explorer, and others - the front page may look different, but the url will be in the same place.)

2. Sign in to www.plumaslibrary.org by using your library card number as the “login” (no spaces) and the last four digits of your card number as the “password”:

Check out all our databases and other information on the Library's home page, such as all the latest news and upcoming events.

LOG-IN INSTRUCTIONS

Welcome to Plumas County Library's new catalog. Your default login is your library card number (with no spaces). Your default password is the last four digits of your library card. We recommend you change your password. Always log out after using our catalog at a public computer.

(published on 01/02/2011)

RSS feed for system-wide library news.

Check out our Literacy Program.

3. Once signed in, click on the link that says “New York Times Link” (this link will not be visible until after you sign in):

Check out all our databases and other Hello, (Patron Name) information on the Library's home page, such as all the latest news and upcoming events.

Checked out (0)

You have nothing checked out

NEW YORK TIMES LINK

Check out our Literacy Program.

your summary

your fines

4. Click “redeem”:

Enjoy a special offer from The New York Times.

Redeem your code for digital access to The New York Times.
(there will be a long string of letters and numbers here)

REDEEM

No credit card is required to redeem your code.
To activate your access, you'll need to log in or register first.
Not applicable for existing digital or home delivery subscribers.

What's Included

5. You will need to either create an account or log in:

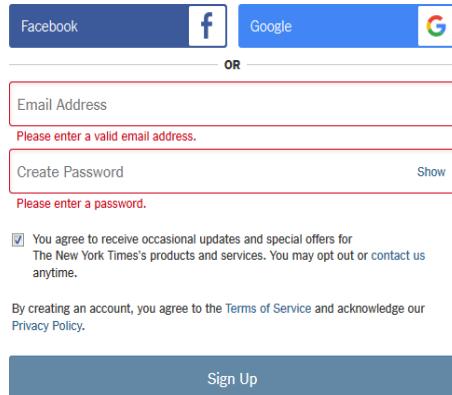

Create an Account if you do not already have one. You can create an account by using your Facebook, Google account, or just an email. Make sure to uncheck the “you agree to receive occasional updates and special offers” box if you do not want them to send you emails.

Log In if you already have an account. Make sure to uncheck the “remember me” box if you are using a public computer.

You will see one of these screens. Fill it out and then click “sign up” or “log in”:

Create Your Account

Already have an account? Log in »

Facebook  Google
OR

Email Address
Please enter a valid email address.

Create Password Show

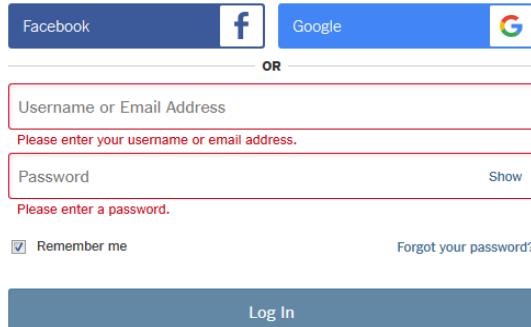

Please enter a password.

You agree to receive occasional updates and special offers for The New York Times's products and services. You may opt out or contact us anytime.

By creating an account, you agree to the Terms of Service and acknowledge our Privacy Policy.

Log In

Don't have an account? Create one »

Facebook  Google
OR

Username or Email Address
Please enter your username or email address.

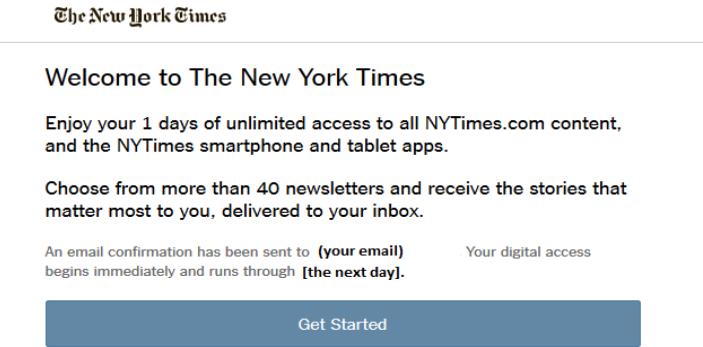

Password Show

Please enter a password.

Remember me Forgot your password?

OR

6. You will reach a screen saying you now have access to the NY Times. (Each redeemed code now lasts 72 hours, but you can always follow these steps again and a new code will be provided when the old one expires; there is no limit to how many days you do this.) Just click on “Get Started” or “Continue”:

The New York Times

Welcome to The New York Times

Enjoy your 1 days of unlimited access to all NYTimes.com content, and the NYTimes smartphone and tablet apps.

Choose from more than 40 newsletters and receive the stories that matter most to you, delivered to your inbox.

An email confirmation has been sent to \(your email\) begins immediately and runs through [\[the next day\]](#). Your digital access

7. If you are creating an account for the first time, you may be asked about subscribing to certain subsets of the NY Times, or if you want to add your phone number so a link can be sent to your phone for the app, or ads to buy extras. You can either skip these steps by pressing the “skip” link or the “go back to reading” link at the bottom of the page (you may need to scroll down), or you can agree to them. Please note the library will not support any additions that cost more money (and suggests at the very least seeing what is available for free before you agree to spend your own money to buy something else.) If something is an ad it will have a price to it. It is our recommendation that you skip all of these steps; you can always go back at a later date and edit your profile. The following are some examples (the top images show how to subscribe to certain subsets of the NY Times; the bottom left shows the screen where they ask you to enter your phone number; the bottom right shows an example of an ad - note that it has a price on it):

The New York Times
Get started with your subscription

Step 1 of 3

Step 2 of 3

Stay updated on the topics you care about with our newsletters

Morning Briefing

Know the news before 9 a.m.

Skim the most important stories of the day with the Morning Briefing newsletter.

Sounds good

Skip this step

On Politics

WEEKDAYS

A guiding hand through the political news cycle, telling you what you really need to know.

The Interpreter

WEEKDAYS

Original insights, commentary and discussions on the major news stories of the week.

DealBook

WEEKDAYS

Making sense of major business and policy headlines and the power-brokers who shape them.

David Leonhardt

WEEKDAYS

Make sense of the news with exclusive commentary every weekday morning.

Climate Fact

WEEKDAYS

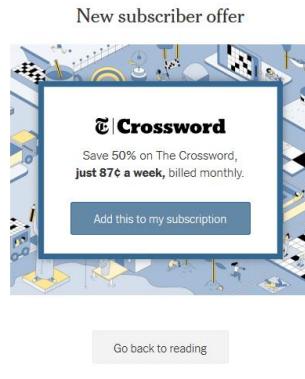

Watching

Smarter Living

Cooking

The New York Times
Get started with your subscription

Step 3 of 3

Start reading in the app

Enjoy The Times on the go. Enter your phone number below and we'll send you the link.

+1 555 555 5555

Text me the link

Get back to reading

New subscriber offer

NYT Crossword

Save 50% on The Crossword, just 87¢ a week, billed monthly.

Add this to my subscription

Go back to reading