The attached Restraining Order Forms must be filled out completely on both sides.

In order for the Judge to grant the order there must have been threats to do harm or acts of violence done to you. You will need to write out in detail what the person you want the Restraining Order against has done to you. You will need to be specific as to Date etc. and exactly what they did or said. If you just say they are harassing or threatening you, the Judge will deny the order. The distance you ask for the person to stay away must still allow them to get to their home and place of employment.

If you have any questions while filling out the forms please call our office.

Once you return the completed forms to Victim Witness we will make copies and submit them to the Judge.

The Judge makes the decision as to whether the order gets signed or not. Victim Witness has no control over this.

Visitation (Parenting Time) with Children

You can ask a judge to make decisions about when your child spends time with the person in 2. This is called parenting time or visitation. It means the schedule and exact times each parent spends with the child. If a parent does not get custody, that parent can have parenting time with the child if a judge believes it is safe and in the child's best interest. Answer the questions below to tell the judge what parenting time you want right now for person in 2. Any orders the judge makes are temporary for now. They last until the court date (about three weeks away). On your court date, the judge can change or extend the orders.

9 Do you want the judge to make child custody orders? Yes (Complete the section): No

Child Custody

You can ask a judge to make custody orders for your children. There are two types of custody in California: legal and physical custody.

- Legal custody means the person that makes decisions about the child's health, education, and welfare.
- Physical custody means the person that the child regularly lives with.

For both types of custody, parents can share custody (joint) or one parent can have full custody (sole).
